“ My heart is broken but you have enriched my life to the fullest! Infinity x infinity. God Bless you my friend!

“ Phil left a powerful and lasting impact on me. His voice, his manner, his gentle laughter will be carried in my mind and heart until I can shake his hand in heaven. "We have to avoid the high-high's and the low-low's," he always said. Well, losing him is one of the low-low's that can't be avoided. For you all right now, Easter is the highest of high's that I pray lifts you beyond this deep loss to our entire community. Christ is risen! He is risen indeed. Death no longer has any dominion.

“ Phil was always such a kind man. He had a smile for me every time I saw him, and I was so pleased that he was able to serve as a priest for our diocese. His gentleness and warmth will be missed.

“ Praying for Phil's family and wishing them God's love and support. Phil spoke often of his family. He brought his whole self to those fortunate enough to know him or work with him, as I did at Bellevue University. I'll never forget his compassion and the stories and sayings he used to illustrate calm in any storm. He had such wisdom and was so centered. The world is much poorer without Phil. But the souls and hearts he touched and enriched will hold him forever, and that is a pearl beyond any price.

“ Phil and Diana have always been there for so many. Family friends, The Church, and neighbors. Phil was born to be a leader of small groups. At seven, he as getting the kids together in Machias for that exciting bike ride down to the swimming hole at Lime Lake. At nine, in Franklinville, he organized baseball games, hikes around town, and after church on Sunday's, get togethers at somebody's house. He was always planning the next adventure. In Sardinia, from household chores, to black berry picking, to potatoe picking, Phil lead us by looking for ways to make the task more fun and efficient. Phil worked every day of his life. Thank you Phil for a much more wonderful world.

“ Phil was such a memorable man. I appreciated the chance to work with him at Bellevue University. He had such a bright smile, kind word and quick wit. He was so kind to always send birthday wishes to so many of us; even long after he left the university. I remember him as a respectful and caring individual who left his mark. He will be missed. Prayers go out to Phil and his family.

“ I can not say enough good about Phil. He seemed to always be there with a listening ear just at the right time. When there was about to be tears his humor would create laughter. I could always count on him to listen and give advice that was needed not always wanted but was needed. His words were always kind no matter if they needed to be stern. I thank the Lord for the opportunity to have Phil as a friend and his family for allowing him to be the person he was. I will continue to pray for the healing hearts of the many that will miss Phil. He will be greatly missed by many.

“ I am so sorry to hear about the loss of Phil. My prayers and thoughts are with Dianna and the rest of his family. I met Phil while attending St. Luke's in Plattsmouth and quickly grew to admire his whole family. Phil was one of the best men I have had the pleasure of knowing and I always secretly wished I had been lucky enough to have Phil and Dianna as parents because they seemed to be the best anchors to a wonderful family. This world is a little colder without Phil Chapman in it.

Angel Garrett (Dooley) - April 29, 2018 at 09:02 PM
