“ Joe and I grew up one block apart from kindergarten to high school graduation. We were always playing together and during the summers were together nearly every day. He and Bev were my best friends. My wife just died a few weeks ago so I miss seeing the obituary about his death. I would have wanted to be at his funeral. I am sorry for your loss. Joe was always a good friend. I remember his dad taking us for a ride in the first Dodge Charger in Plattsmouth when it arrived at their dealership.
